President Report January 2016

As we enter 2016...

This time last year Council had endorsed the Beverley Water Harvest Project Planning Report and a grant application to the Department of Water for implementation was in the "pipeline"! The grant was successful and works are now well underway in preparation for the forthcoming winter. Resolving ongoing internet and mobile coverage issues around the district has not been as positive.

Multipurpose Community and Visitor Hub

Unfortunately the Shire was not successful with its application to the National Stronger Regions Fund Round 2 for the Multipurpose Community and Visitor Centre project. Feedback is being sought on the submission and analysis of Round 3 guidelines is underway as Council determines a course of action to progress this important community and economic development facility.

Shire Office

Some in the community may have already heard that the shire office was broken into several weeks before the end of 2015. The intruder was found sleeping in the building by a staff member first thing in the morning and subsequently detained by local police. Fortunately there was no damage however staff had a large untidy mess to rectify once police and forensics gave the OK. Whilst this is a very rare incident in terms of the Shire building being broken into, it is alarming that such characters are visiting Beverley from time to time. Please be vigilant.

Roadwork

Preparation and sealing work continues on the York Williams road which will result in the remaining section within the Shire of Beverley being bituminized in the not too distant future.

February - Local Government Training in Beverley

In February the Shire of Beverley will host one of several 4 day programmes of training opportunities for Elected Members to be held at regional locations around the State. The WA Local Government Association (WALGA) and Department of Local Government and Communities (DLGC) are working in partnership to provide high level training opportunities for Country Local Government members to build their skills and improve governance and decision making. Course topics include Serving on Council, Meeting Procedures and Debating, Land use Planning, and Strategy and Risk Management.

Central Country Zone of 16 Local Governments

The Central Country Zone of Local Governments comprises the Shires of Beverley, Brookton, Corrigin, Cuballing, Dumbleyung, Kulin, Lake Grace, Narrogin (Town and Shire due to merge in 2016), Pingelly, Quairading, Wagin, Wandering, West Arthur, Wickepin, and Williams. Each Council has two elected member delegates and Beverley is represented by Cr Ridgway and Cr Murray with Cr Buckland as proxy. Cr Ridgway has been re-elected onto the Zone Executive. Shire of Cuballing President Cr Mark Conley, is the new Zone President.

Beverley Christmas Lights

It was lovely seeing Christmas lights up during the festive season and thank you for the time taken to do this (especially as once they go up, there's more work to get them back down and packed away!) Travellers along Great Southern Highway between Beverley and Brookton were even treated to a Christmas light display by new district residents on their Mt Kokeby property.

Thanks from Toyota Landcruiser Club of WA

The Toyota Landcruiser Club of WA had 74 members stay in Beverley over the weekend of 21/22 November 2015 for their end of year windup. An email received on behalf of the group following the weekend thanked the Shire and Citizens of Beverley for hospitality shown during the stay. The Club was very complimentary of our caravan park caretakers' professionalism and welcoming manner (well done Janet!) and appreciative of everyone involved with assisting the group over the weekend, even if it was just a welcoming hello and smile (well done by our friendly community!)

Council Meetings

The next Ordinary Meeting of Council will be February 23rd 2016. There is no meeting in January. Council Committee meetings are scheduled for Tuesday 9th February 2016.

Best wishes for a productive 2016
Dee Ridgway - Shire President

“In Their Own Words and Pictures”

This morning on the twenty fourth of November the year two class went to the Dead Finish Museum. I was really excited. Dylan

The Dead Finish is the oldest building still standing in Beverley. Fillipa

Two parent helpers came along as well. Mrs Colebrook teaches us history. Caleb

We went to learn about History and what it was like [in the Olden Days]. Christopher

A woman explained what we were doing. The woman said washing was hardest. Josna

I went to the school with my group and then I went to wash the clothes, polishing, dress up, nurses room, dining room and outside. Soraya

We went to do some washing and I did two tea-towels and one big pillowcase. Daniel

I did washing and I cleaned the knives and forks. Jacob

It was fun but I liked the classroom the best. Leah

I learned a lot like kangaroos have really nice fur and they had a cellar for drinks and bodies! Oliver

We ate Anzac biscuits, fairy bread and drank something. Then we got a penny and lollies. Mya

I am going to keep my coin forever, literally ever! It might be a family heirloom. Jade

I felt really awesome because it was fun. Blair

The museum was very old and it was very awesome. Shirley

At the end Josna and I had a speech to thank everyone. Alice

The Beverley Historical Society thanks the students of Beverley District High School for an excellent visit.

SUCCESSION PLANNING - A SERIES OF COMMENTARIES [8]

Formal business meetings

It is also our recommendation, based upon the experience that we have in these matters, that formal and regular structured meetings should occur amongst the members of the Business who have an interest, either direct or indirect, in the Business to ensure that the core values, goals and philosophy of the Business are maintained, any risk to the Business is minimised and any misunderstandings between members of the Business addressed at an early stage. For example, we recommend that regular and formal business meetings occur no less than once every quarter and be supported by an agenda, minutes of previous meetings and notices of any resolutions that will be moved at the next meeting. Those documents should be circulated amongst all the members of the Business and notice thereof given within a reasonable time prior to the meeting (which we considered to be not less than seven days before the meeting) so as to give each attendant the opportunity to properly prepare for the meeting.

A formal meeting structure is of particular benefit to those who are "off farm" and not privy to the day to day discussions and decisions which are made and which impact upon the direction, profit and success of the Business.

Strategic plan

As part of the suite of documents we recommend be prepared by the members of a farming business, a strategic plan is very important.

The strategic plan should be for a period of not less than three years and probably not more than five years and must interface seamlessly with the constitution and the expectations of the members of the Business.

Annual retreats

From our experience and from discussions with clients, we recommend that annually the strategic plan and the progress of the Business be reviewed by a meeting of all members of the Business whether they be "on farm" or "off farm" and that the review occur away from the Business so as to give each attendant the opportunity to fully focus on the review. We recommend the review last not more than one day and not less one half day.

Role of the advisors

The task of completing a business constitution and strategic plan is somewhat daunting and can be made more simple by the use of your trusted advisors and banker. To that end, we recommend that during the process, and sooner rather than later, you involve your banker, your accountant, your farm advisor and your lawyer to assist in the completion of the process. The combined knowledge and experience of the members of the Business and their advisors will have a substantial impact upon the quality and longevity of a successful business.

Checklist

There are many other matters that should be included in the constitution and strategic plan of a business. It is our recommendation that a checklist of those matters be prepared before holding the meetings necessary to prepare those documents. We have prepared a checklist of those matters and are more than willing to make our checklist available to you upon request.

Station Gallery

Let us begin by wishing everyone a very Happy Christmas and a Prosperous and Healthy New Year, and to say thank you all for your patronage during 2015.

On Monday 23 November Sarah Miller and I travelled to Fairbridge Village in Pinjarra for the Exchange and Regional Peak Partnership Forum - coordinated by Country Arts WA, it was a 3 day conference where invited regional arts based organisations and artists met with Dept Culture and the Arts, and other related organisations, to network, build relationships and learn from each other. Well, it was a full-on and exhausting talkfest culminating in the Peak organisations agreeing to establish a collaborative partnership program that embeds the priorities of regional artists and communities. It was recognised that the current model for regional arts in WA is not working with the constant burnout, feeling lost at sea and lacking a voice. The new programme will be region driven and allocation of funds made more accessible.

Besides this overall prize the town's renowned 2D media art show, there are six other sections with prizes of $1000 each. Describing himself as an exciting, progressive, unique interdisciplinary South African artist, he will be working on a novel and amending plays and papers whilst in Beverley.

Please make him feel welcome by dropping into the Station whilst he is here.

Warriors Wellbeing Article - SELF-WORTH vs SELF-ESTEEM

Self-worth and self - esteem are often confused as being synonymous (the same), however they are very different.

Self-esteem is about measuring yourself based on external actions;
Self-worth is about valuing your inherent worth as a person.
In other words self-worth is about who you are, not about what you do.

Society pushes for the need to have a high self-esteem but the problem with this is that you are always valuing yourself against others. The competitive nature of men in particular, tells us we need to be better and above average to feel really good about ourselves (keeping up appearances). When you look at this way of building your self-esteem it can be a losing battle because there will always be someone who is more handsome, slimmer, richer, owns bigger and better equipment and so on.

Self-esteem is pretty transient and can change in an instant depending on what happens, for example we may be feeling pretty good about a new piece of machinery or the quality of our stud flock and then someone makes a negative comment and our self-esteem falters and we feel completely crushed. That's how fragile our self-esteem can be because it can also be fixed by a compliment that bolsters us again. Much anxiety may be created in striving for acceptance or approval and maintaining our ego or pride.

Probably the best way to understand self-worth is to ask yourself how valuable you are, or how much you deserve to have something you prize. It is a deep knowing that you are of value, that you are loveable and necessary to this life. One may feel a high self-esteem because they are good at something, yet still not feel they are loveable and worthy. When you have a healthy self-worth (at the very core of yourself) you have a deep knowing that you are fundamentally a valuable and worthwhile person regardless of -

- ⇒ what others may say or do to you;
- ⇒ what your successes or failures are;
- ⇒ what you win or lose;
- ⇒ what you have or don't have;
- ⇒ whether you are sick or healthy.

The concept of self-worth is really about knowing that you are always going to be worth more than all of your achievements put together.

It is definitely a good thing to think and feel good about ourselves but what happens when our self-esteem is crushed, does that mean we are no longer valuable? Absolutely not however many people do think that they are no longer valuable. For example Robyn Williams, the highly regarded actor and held in high esteem by millions, completed suicide probably not because of a low self-esteem but more likely a low sense of self-worth.

Self-worth and self-esteem are vital beliefs for empowering oneself. A valid sense of self worth is necessary in order to attain love and a sound mind. A valid sense of self-worth precludes the possibility of depression and the worthlessness that can lead to despair or possible suicidal behaviour.

Situations, or life events, can come from many places. As these situations develop we need to value our self-worth to reduce anxiety for ourselves. Remember ...before it all gets too much... Talk to a Mate!

THE BLUE LINE

Hello Everyone

This was me after the sausage roll eating competition, sorry, judging, not eating. If anyone says they can't tell the difference then ordinarily I'd have a go at you but I have to be honest, my waistline has been steadily growing for some time now.

Do you know what though? It's a new year so it'll be a new me.

It'll never happen. You don't win friends with salads.

Who said it had been quiet ?????

That would have been me. You'd have thought I'd have learned by now never to say the 'Q' word. It's cursed. Whilst we haven't been experiencing a crime wave we have been very busy. We've had quite a few arrests for a variety of offences. Most of the people we've had dealings with have been out of towners just passing through and on their way they have transgressed the law to one extent or the other. Everyone must know by now that we had a break in at the Shire office recently (15/12/15). Due to the quick actions of one particular shire worker (I won't name him as he's notoriously shy - NOT!!!!) we were roused from our sleep (mine was initiated by strong painkillers due to troublesome wisdom teeth) and as a result we apprehended the offender whilst he was still in the building. He was subsequently charged with numerous offences and 10 ½ hrs later on what was our day off we went back home and had the shower we didn't have time for in the morning. Think week old kippers, that's what we smelled like.

Whilst I may have moaned about missing out on my beauty sleep (and let's be honest, I need it) this was once again a great example of the community working together and long may it continue!

With regards to other crime matters, please remain vigilant regarding stock thefts. We've had a few reported to us so please keep an eye on your stock. Some blokes are using the ruse that they are looking for water for their car, they're not. Please let us know about any suspicious characters you see knocking around.....

THE BLUE LINE

Beverley Police Station
57 Hunt Road, Beverley WA 6304

Roads Policing....

We recently had the motorbike cops here in town. One of the lads on that team is an old friend of mine from the rainy old UK where I used to work on the same department as him. I'd been telling him for a long time just how nice Beverley is and that he should come up for a visit. Little did I know that when he did he'd bring 5 of his equally hi-vis vested mates with him. Still, it was good for them to see how we live and work here in Regional WA and they say they will be back so if we're not here you might just see some of the WAPOL bikies knocking about....

I know I've mentioned it before but some eyebrows were raised a few weeks ago when we carried out a RBT exercise on Vincent Street. Well, prepare to raise them again because it's going to happen again and not just in the last location. Everyone who was stopped that night was under the limit, in fact all drivers bar 1 blew 0.00. The 1 'positive' was so low it hardly registered.

Once again it's great to see but bear this in mind, we don't care who you are, if we stop you and you've been drink driving we WILL charge you. Fair warning? I reckon so.

What else was I going to say, oh yes, please be careful out on the roads. My own car had an argument with a very large roo out on Talbot West Road and lost, magnificently.

That's all for now.....

It's weird because I'm writing this before Christmas and New Year have even been and gone but I hope everyone had a safe and happy Christmas and New Year. I bet I didn't get my Aston Martin DB5, again, but the socks and hankies are always appreciated and a perfect alternative to one the icons of the car industry.....

And yes, the rumours are true, we had a chicken involved in an interview and here's the proof:-

Nothing will ever surprise me again.

Take care everyone,
Ian & Nick.

*To all of the residents,
We wish you a very safe, healthy and prosperous 2016. Please be safe on the roads over the festive season and we will see you in the New Year.
From the Editor and Proofing Staff of

BEVERLEY PATCHWORKERS AND QUILTERS

We have had a very successful year with our ladies achieving many quilts and other projects.

Our community quilt has been finished and the lucky owner was delighted to receive his unused blankets now made into a lovely quilt.

The photo show the ladies working to complete the quilt.

And here it is already at home minutes after leaving our hands.

This week we enjoyed our end of year luncheon at the Parkerville Tavern. It was very pleasant sitting under the trees with friends in the beautiful bush landscape on a sunny day in a cool breeze, enjoying a meal together.

We have one more meeting next Tuesday before we break for the festive season.

If you would like to come and join us please phone Jan at 0438 019 510.

Claire Broun - Designer of the Town Entry Statement

*Claire Broun, senior landscape architect with JMD Design.

Well travelled: Claire Broun, senior landscape architect with JMD Design in Sydney, takes StreetChat through designing for Copenhagen and Sydney.

Tell us about yourself. What drew you to landscape architecture?

My father is a fifth generation wheat farmer and my mother an artist. I grew up in an old homestead on a property in Western Australia's wheatbelt.

A flourishing garden surrounds the verandahs where, as a child, I would often forage for plants to dissect and draw. I realise now, looking back, that these environments, both within and beyond the garden fence, are fundamental to who I am today.

I showed talent as an artist throughout high school and was enthusiastic about continuing my interest with studies at university. This, combined with a developing interest in the land, lead me to enrolling in Landscape Management at UWA.

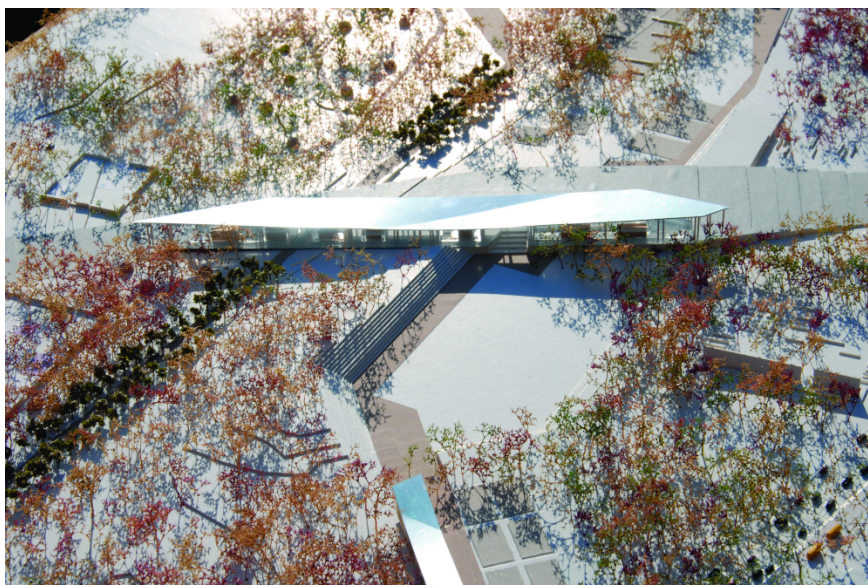

A second year elective sent me to the Architecture, Landscape and Visual Arts (ALVA) campus for a lecture on 'A sense of place.' I walked through the landscape architecture studio, full of drawing boards, and decided then and there to switch courses.

For a new graduate, how was the experience of working in Scandinavia?

Winning a scholarship upon graduating from university took me to Copenhagen for three years. My first job as a graduate, in the Scandinavian city known for its 'livability' was a bit of a Hans Christian Andersen fairytale-like dream.

I embraced my position, thoroughly enjoyed the Copenhagen lifestyle and took every opportunity to travel. It was an exciting time for me as a young graduate, often flying to meetings in Paris or London.

Overall, the projects I worked on varied in scale and location. Memorable projects were Aalborg's Opera House, a 50ha park in Amman Jordan, residential developments in London and a number of competitions throughout Denmark and Europe.

Most of these projects were documented in English however the first project I worked on was for some deep-sea baths in Sweden. Like most Scandinavian interactions my boss spoke Danish and the client Swedish so I spent initial meetings focusing on differentiating the two languages.

My first job as a graduate, in the Scandinavian city known for its 'livability' was a bit of a Hans Christian Andersen fairytale-like dream.

How does Scandinavian design compare to Australian?

The general population of Scandinavia has a good understanding of design and importantly landscape architecture is a much more established profession there, so people are more aware of the contributions we can make.

I can only speak for one Danish firm, though there were some noticeable variations in the design approach. A great awareness of the nuances of materials and of place informed concepts, often leading to responses that would embody a classical quality, with an element of timelessness, naive to a style or trend.

The adjustment between countries was not so much in the design process, but more in the consideration of local, cultural and environmental factors.

Which Australian projects have you been working on?

I was fortunate to be involved in the early masterplan stages of Central Park, working through concept and design development from 2007 while I was in Denmark.

I then relocated to Sydney for the documentation and construction of the main park, adjacent plaza and streets, along with various other areas throughout the precinct. Like any project, seeing it come to life after so many years in the making was rewarding. This was especially so when Balfour Street was opened up, providing a connection to the park from Broadway through to Chippendale and beyond. Seeing such large numbers of people use a space that was previously walled off to the public is really something.

What influences your designs?

I'm mostly inspired by travel. Experiencing how other cultures use space, noticing ecological differences, different plant characteristics and assessing how my own behaviour changes in response to new environments.

I love spending time in galleries, and revisiting favourites to notice details I hadn't seen previously. I'll never tire of places like Louisiana Museum's sculpture garden.

The social media scroll has become my part of my commute though there's a lot of information out there to process.

What are you excited to be working on at the moment?

I'm currently working on Parramatta Square. JMD is part of a great lead design team consisting of TCL, TZG and Gehl Architects.

Many of the projects I've worked on have been collaborations, which is important in striving for a unified and integrated outcome. I find the initial stage we're in, when everyone is throwing ideas around, an exciting part of the process.

Lyme Disease Association of Australia

Have your say, tell your story

In November, the Senate asked a committee to look into Lyme-like illness in Australia. The committee announced their plan with a list of points they will cover. The committee refer to this as a 'Terms of Reference'. You can find the full terms of reference on the Senate website.

The committee want to:

1. find out how many people have a Lyme-like illness and where they live;
2. find out how to protect patients, doctors and researchers from poor treatment;
3. understand how people get diagnosed with Lyme-like illness. They want to know about pathology laboratories, the types of tests in use and how they work. They want to know how laboratories, and people, can make sure they are doing the right tests the right way. They are interested in overseas tests and if they are different, why? They want to know why tests done overseas are not accepted in Australia;
4. find out how much money was spent on research. They want to know what research is looking at the germs and bugs that people get from ticks. They want to know what research is looking at other ways people can become sick with Lyme-like illness;
5. find out if there is research looking for a unique Australian bug/s that is causing many people to have a Lyme-like illness;
6. find out what types of signs and symptoms people have when they have Lyme-like illness. They want to know how those people are being treated and how patients and families are impacted by their illness; and
7. if there is anything else they need to know.

It's important that everyone who has a Lyme-like illness, and their friends and family make a submission telling the Senate committee about their story. This is your opportunity to stand up and be counted. You don't need to answer all the points, you can simply tell your own story about how you became sick and how you've been treated. You can provide your opinion on any of the other points too. The committee are especially interested in hearing from people with a lived experience of Lyme-like illness.

The committee accepts written submissions. If you are unable to make a written submission, the committee will accept an audio submission and will have your submission transcribed and published with your permission.

This is really important for anyone you know who may fall into this category. There is a template available on the Lyme Disease Associations web site, which is easy to follow & helpful to fill. It can be a family member filling in, if the person is too ill to be able to do it. All submissions will be accepted by the Association and forwarded to the Senate inquiry where Members of the Association will be present in person to present all the submissions. This is our chance to be heard and we need a very loud voice so please encourage anyone you know who is suffering, to participate. For more information please contact Jeff & Wendy Murray. We are happy to speak anywhere, anytime to sufferers or their careers. (9646 1336 or 0417 925 662). There is more information via YouTube, Twitter, Facebook or <http://www.lymedisease.org.au/>

Beverley Historical Society

We had a good attendance at our last meeting for the year with only two apologies. After the meeting we did our cover up. This means we go around the museum and drape everything to keep the dust and any mice off should they happen to venture into the building. We only have the occasional one in and there are always baits down for these furry little ones.

The Year 2 class from the Beverley District High School came to the museum on November 24. They all enjoyed themselves and have presented us with a booklet. Very much thanks for that.

Now that the WWI treasures have been returned to their owners we have placed our own war memorabilia into the cabinet. This along with the panels of information of WWI will stay on display until 2018. This is our intention as the First World War ended in 1918.

We had our Christmas function at the home of our President, Di Smith. Thanks to Morag we started off with bubbly and OJ. This was followed by a wonderful morning tea. There was plenty of chatter and fellowship. Very many thanks to Di for your wonderful hospitality. A great time was had by all.

The Dead Finish is now closed until March 2016. We will have a busy bee on Wednesday 02, Thursday 03 and Friday 04 March 2016, starting at 8.45am on each day.

Our next meeting will be held on Monday 14 March 2016 at 2.00pm at the Dead Finish.

We would like to wish everyone a safe, healthy and happy 2016.

BEVERLEY HAS A WORLD FIRST

You might be surprised to learn that your club, Beverley Soaring Society, is very big on the world stage. As can be seen from the list below, Beverley Soaring Society is ranked NUMBER ONE IN THE WORLD on the Online Competition (OLC) which ranks clubs according to how far its members have flown.

Yes, that is correct. Gliders from Beverley have flown more kilometres than from any other gliding club in the world this season. The list below shows just the top few of over 300 clubs worldwide submitting their flights for recording.

All are welcome to drop in to visit any Friday, Saturday or Sunday and also between Christmas and New Year.

CONGRATULATIONS
MICHAELA
QUARTERMAINE

The last Beverley Photography Group meeting on Thursday 10 December we were able to present on behalf of the Snap Happy Photography Group, an amazing gift. Michaela's mum had put the call out for advice on camera's to buy Michaela for Christmas, as she will be studying Visual Arts and Photography next year in school and was very serious about it all.

As a collective group it was decided to start a donation/ collection to see what we could gift to Michaela. It was started off by a very generous photographer named Seng, from Venture Photography Workshops. Very quickly donations were added and a long list of gear was coming Michaela's way before Christmas. We presented her with a list last night as it was so quick that we didn't have time to even collect the gear. Needless to say, her mum cried, I cried as I presented it, and Michaela was over the moon and so very appreciative. So once again, thank you to everyone from the Snap Happy group, what an amazing turn of events for a young girl, and I'm so proud to be a part of the best photography group online. I can't wait to be witness to Michaela's photography journey she is about to embark upon.

Beverley Bowling Club

The Pennants are going into their summer break, with the ladies team currently in 2nd position on the ladder, only 1 point behind York Gold. Both the men's teams are in 4th position. Pennants will re-commence in February.

The Ladies Singles Championship has been played over the past few weeks, with 9 ladies taking part in a round robin format, and these were finalized on the 16 December. The champion for the 2015-16 season is Glenys Collins with 8 wins from 8 games played, Marg Peck was the runner-up, with 7 wins from 8 games. Many thanks to all who helped with marking the games.

Glenys and Marg also skipped teams in the Avon League side at the recent Inter-League Pairs played at York, with Avon League winning this event with 13 wins from 16 games played. Both have been chosen along with Lyn Mactaggart to play for Avon in the Inter-League Fours to be played at Merredin in February. Good Luck also goes to Peter Fleay and Geoff Bremner when they attend the Men's Inter-League Fours in January.

On Sunday 13 December, 50 plus people attended the annual 'Bowl Over Cancer' Christmas Party at the Bowling Club, where, after Father Christmas had entertained the children and some adults, everyone enjoyed a sumptuous meal. In the afternoon, fun bowling games were played, with much frivolity and some skill for all to enjoy. Many thanks to Glenys Hastings for all the Christmas Pudding prizes given to the successful players.

The raffle winners are:

1st prize - Errol Squires

2nd prize - Sheryl Moulton

3rd prize - Jodie Bell

Congratulations to you all and thank you for supporting our local club.

Upcoming events:

⇒ The Elders New Years Eve Mixed Triples, with $10 entry per person, BYO tea, then a supper provided after the games.

⇒ Twilight Bowls will be held throughout January on Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

A SEASONS GREETINGS FROM THE BEVERLEY HOME CHURCH

We wish to thank you all for your willingness and support throughout the year. Especially for your support at the CAROLFEST with donations for the ADRA ESPERANCE FIRE RELIEF totalling $4,823.20.

Sorry about the weather for the day but you still came with your big hearts and open wallets. Thank you again.

We will do it again the CAROLFEST that is. Do you have any requests for the next one? Please feel free to forward any ideas on to us.

We will not be meeting again until the third week of January as we will be away. A welcome to all at all times and blessings to you all. And here is just our little message to you for right now.

There were two ladies dining at an exclusive restaurant all dressed up to the nines. A friend saw them and went over to ask them what the special occasion was. The ladies told them they were having a birthday party for their two year old "But where is the baby " they asked, "Oh we dropped him off at Mums. She is looking after him until the party is over. It wouldn't be much fun with him along" the friend was told. How ridiculous you say! A celebration for a child that wasn't welcome at his own party. Yet when you stop to think about it that's no more foolish than going through the CHRISTmas season with all the festivities without remembering the ONE whose birth we are supposed to be remembering, the ONE who we are supposed to be honouring.

Let's welcome HIM into our midst and honour HIM and give HIM all the thanks HE so positively deserves.

We wish you a blessing this CHRISTmas remembering our LORD and SAVIOUR as the ONE to be worshipped above all.

May 2016 be a year filled with blessings from above. We thank you again for all the good times in 2015.

Terry and Glenda
